December 10-12, 2024

Prepare yourself for an extraordinary virtual gathering as the 10th International Conference on Computational and Applied Sciences (ICCAS 2024) takes center stage on December 10-12, 2024. This groundbreaking event will convene the world's leading minds in computational science and applied sciences, offering a platform for groundbreaking research, thought-provoking discussions, and unparalleled networking opportunities.

The ICCAS 2024 Virtual Event will showcase the latest advancements and emerging trends shaping the future of computational science. Attendees will delve into a diverse array of topics, including:

- High-Performance Computing and Big Data
- Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning
- Cloud Computing and Distributed Systems
- Computational Biology and Bioinformatics
- Computational Finance and Economics
- Computational Materials Science
- Computational Social Science
- Quantum Computing and Applications

ICCAS 2024 will feature a dynamic program of keynote speeches, invited talks, research paper presentations, and interactive workshops. Attendees will have the exclusive opportunity to engage with renowned experts, share their research findings, and gain valuable insights into the rapidly evolving field of computational science.

One of the hallmarks of the ICCAS conference series is its commitment to fostering collaboration and knowledge exchange among researchers, practitioners, and industry leaders. The virtual platform will provide a seamless environment for attendees to connect, share ideas, and explore potential partnerships.

The ICCAS 2024 Virtual Event is an unmissable opportunity for anyone involved in computational science and applied sciences. Register today to secure your spot and become part of this transformative gathering!
